❖ 31-SC Toolkit for Managing the Classroom and Engaging Students

Course Leaders: Meghan Groves and Terri-Anne Jackson

Join this three-day course to explore ways to continue to build your repertoire of tools to enhance your practice. Participants will explore ways to build a safe and inclusive classroom community that allows students to be successful. We will also explore classroom management strategies along with tried and true methods for effective communication with parents and guardians. Together, participants will consider different planning models that meet the needs of diverse learners in the areas of mathematics and language arts. Participants will leave this course with greater confidence as they develop strategies and planning tools to use in their classrooms.
